

Turkey Now Called "Stooge" Of Britain

Nazi Planes Over Scotch Areas Again

Diplomatic Activity Obscures Actual Operations

By The Associated Press
The far-reaching implications of the new stand taken in Europe's affairs by Atlantic Turkey—now termed "Britain's stooge"—by disappointed Germans—were weighed last night in European chancelleries in the absence of wide-scale developments on the western front.

Adolf Hitler and Franz von Papen, Germany's trouble-shooting ambassador to Turkey and Hitler's immediate predecessor as Reich chancellor in 1933, went over the Turkish situation while other Nazi officials declared the Atlantic land no longer could be regarded as a neutral.

British leaders hailed the Turkish pact as a stumbling block against the penetration of German influence in the Balkans, especially Rumania.

German Flights
As for the war itself, yesterday's principal developments were fresh flights by German warplanes over the strategic Firth of Forth, which drew British resistance and proved fruitless for the Nazis, and the reported taking of a "few prisoners" by French troops in patrol and reconnaissance activity between the Moselle and Saar rivers on the western front.

Across the Atlantic, in quiet Hyde Park, N. Y., where he went for a week end visit, President Roosevelt told reporters that the territorial limits of the United States went as far as necessary for national safety. He said the limits might range from three to hundreds of miles off the coast.

The president has by proclamation barred the submarines of nations at war in Europe from the use of American ports and territorial waters.

Confronted with the pact between Turkey and the allies which called for help by France and Britain if Turkey is the victim of aggression by "a European power," the Germans at first were reported stunned. But they were represented last night as feeling the pact was not so important because of reservations by which Turkey refused to be drawn into conflict with Soviet Russia, Germany's new friend.

Turkish Obligation
Under the 15-year pact, Turkey cannot be forced to honor any pledges that would involve her in a war with Russia.

What of the reaction of Germany's old ally, Italy?

Dispatches from Rome told of Italian calm in the face of the pact, a circumstance which diplomats said augured continued peace in the Mediterranean.

No later than last summer, the Italians vigorously attacked the proposed pact as published at that time, one newspaper going as far as to describe the Turks as "traitors by nature."

Diplomats in Rome also said the serenity with which Italy received the treaty gave added proof that Italy was determined to remain out of the European war.

Little Finland made up her mind last night on her answer to Russia and instructed her former premier, Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, to return to Moscow today for renewed negotiations.

It was said Finland's counter-proposals would reflect the determination of the northern countries to remain clear of entangling alliances and to protect their neutrality and independence.

The Wrath Of The Sea

The American liner President Harding entered New York harbor Wednesday in a sad plight. One passenger was missing, 45 others were injured, and 28 members of the crew were suffering from hurts of various kinds.

These simple facts might lead to the supposition that the big ship had been attacked somewhere in the Atlantic by a fighting ship of some belligerent nation.

But this would be a false supposition. On the contrary, the ship passed through the war zones unscathed on her way across.

But old Neptune was more savage than the submarines or air bombers. The god of the sea put on one of his tantrums—showing the power of winds and waters, battering the big liner in terrible shape, and sending her "limping" into port, as the marine reporters would say.

But the liner brought her own passengers and crew safely to land, with the exceptions named. And besides, she had picked up some 36 survivors of a British freighter at sea after the British ship had been torpedoed in mid-Atlantic.

Storm damage to ships seems trivial now compared with that done by a torpedo shot into the ship's side.

Why Steel Boons?

A direct clue to the reason why steel production in the United States climbs toward 90 per cent is contained in a study by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

It is not so much that war materials are being made for export as the fact that among the chief steel-exporting countries have been England, France, Germany and Poland. None of these is at the moment in a position to export much finished steel.

Other countries, unable to get it from their usual sources of supply, have been turning to the United States, for Belgium, Luxembourg, Sweden, Canada, and Hungary, the other chief steel exporters, could not

Leadership Is Important

(Danville Commercial-News) The present era being one of grave concern, when even our own liberty guaranteeing Constitution seems threatened at times, and the public debt has reached an alarming total, the selection of men to assume the responsibility of managing our government should be made with the greatest of care. This is particularly true concerning election of men for the United States Senate.

In that connection we are hearing with ever-increasing frequency, Otis F. Glenn mentioned as a likely representative in Congress from Illinois. As a former member of the Senate, he earned a reputation for having courage to fight for his convictions and he enjoyed the respect of his colleagues in both major political parties.

In retrospect, many citizens of this state appreciate more than ever now the sound and able leadership of Senator Glenn. He opposed our entrance into the League of Nations and the World Court, but favored a strong national defense. He opposed the cancellation of war debts. He advocated the abolition of overlapping bureaus and strongly resisted the mounting cost of government. He warned against unnecessary interference with business and industry.

Against great odds, Senator Glenn successfully advocated the appointment of Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes to the United States Supreme Court. He joined labor in its fight for more liberal and progressive Federal Labor Laws.

Thus tested in the light of events as they have developed since he served in the United States Senate, it is clear that the serious business of representing Illinois's 6 million people might well be entrusted to one of his caliber. It is no wonder that citizens throughout the state are urging Otis F. Glenn to become a candidate for United States Senate in 1940.

SMALL TALK

Good morning. This is one of those three-star football weekends that comes along every once in a while. J. H. S. and Routt had games here yesterday and the Illinois College Blueboys clash with Parsons in the I. C. Homecoming tussle here this afternoon. Illinois School for the Deaf keeps it from being a four star special by journeying to Springfield for a Central Conference game with Peishans. Incidentally, this is a double-homecoming week. Routt alumni returned to their high school Alma Mater yesterday and cheered the roaring Rockets against Strong-hurst last night. (This is being written Friday noon, so we can't comment on the game.) And, of course, Illinois College holds the center of the stage today.

You know, Jacksonville is experiencing a pretty swell football season. The Blueboys and the Grimsoms have lost a game apiece, but are going along in fine style. The Rockets are undefeated with their six-man team, and the Tigers of I. S. D. are doing themselves proud, still undefeated. Quite a bunch of gridiron gladiators.

The first legitimate stage production to visit Jacksonville in a number of years is scheduled for December 16 when a traveling company will present "Tobacco Road" at the Illinois theater. That should be an interesting and worth-while event. "Tobacco Road" is still running in New York and seems to have taken its place alongside the Empire State building as one of the permanent features of the metropolis. The two most famous "Jeeter Leaters" (think that's the name of the leading character) are James Barton and Henry Hull. We're guessing on this, but we think Barton was the original Jeeter, then Hull took it over for a time while Barton went on the road. Barton returned to the New York cast quite a while ago (the show's been running there about six years) and Hull took one of his periodic jaunts to Hollywood. Barton served notice last spring that he was getting tired of it.

The play itself has attracted more attention than most during its run—partly because of its record and partly because of the unusual nature of the thing. It was banned in Chicago after a short run there. The road companies have probably dusted it off a bit. Don't know who is in the cast that will appear here. Should be fun, though.

They threw another batch of copy paper at us today, so we are all a dither again. The last sheets were quite long and quite wide. If we wrote until we came within three inches of the bottom, we had a nice, regulation size column. These sheets now are very short and very narrow. We estimate that one and a half will do the job. Just have to wait and see. Of course, we could count words. But after the first paragraph you get into higher mathematics, and that sounds very distasteful. Consequently, we have never counted words. Always figured it's the words that count, why should we?

Newsreels are a wonderful thing. They will throw fashions at us every so often, but we of the so-called stronger sex have learned to sit quietly during fashion pictures—after all, some of them are almost as funny as Donald Duck. The other day, one of the fashion sections of a newsreel was devoted to women's shoes. Golly, how the ladies can walk around on all that lumber is more than we can understand. The fellow next to us was evidently puzzled, too. Pretty soon he burst forth with a powerful exclamation, then muttered to himself, "Them women's shoes is gettin' as bad as their hats."

While we are still on the subject of newsreels, it is, of course, very fine that they can bring us actual photos of what is going on in Europe. But sometimes, when you have been listening to war on the radio, reading war in the newspapers and magazines, talking war until you are so sick of it that you go to a movie to relax—and THEN, have to SEE it on the screen, it's just a bit too much.

All of which brings us halfway down in the second sheet of copy paper. If our guess was right, the column should now be completely columned. Whether or not our guess was right, the column is completely columned for today. Have to find an I. C. freshman and bum a cigarette. They have to carry them for that purpose this week. See you tomorrow.

Dental Check Up Is Held in Schools By Department Worker

Free Clinic Held for All Children in Certain Grades of System

In an effort of the Parent-Teacher Association to extend the program of dental health education over the entire year instead of just the latter half, Dr. O. S. Hoag and his assistant, Miss Irene Eby, from the Dental Health Education Division of the State Department of Health, were invited to Jacksonville the first and second weeks of October to examine all of the children of the first, second, third, sixth, and eighth grades of the public schools. They were assisted by the principals, the school nurse, the P. T. A. health chairman, and others.

The findings present many interesting and distressing facts. The high percentage of dirty teeth indicate poor home care on the part of the parents or the presence of stains, which only a dentist can remove. Many of the 1117 cavities, found in the baby teeth of each child examined, need attention to preserve the space required for the second teeth and to keep the mouth in a more pleasant and healthy condition, unless those baby teeth are to be replaced by permanent teeth in a month or so. How many parents actually know when each baby tooth should be replaced by the corresponding permanent one? The great number of cavities in six-year molars and other permanent teeth are signals of future trouble and should be corrected by a dentist as soon as possible.

As each child brings an O. K. from the family dentist of all correlations having been made, the room teacher will make note of the fact and record it on the dental charts. All children in the fourth, fifth, and seventh grades will also be eligible to the reward of the dental check-up campaign reward by returning an O. K. from the family dentist to the room teacher.

Much of the success of the dental program for the year will depend on the cooperation of the parents, because only a limited number of children can be taken care of at the clinics conducted by Dr. W. H. Corey, which are for the underprivileged children.

Fifty percent of the children in the first eight grades of the public schools had teeth in perfect condition at the close of last school year and it is hoped by having these examinations early, a perfection of 60 percent can be reached this year.

Summary of Dr. Hoag's findings:
Number of children examined . . . 974
Number of children having dirty teeth . . . 445
Number of children having cavities in baby teeth . . . 471
Number of children having cavities in six-year molars . . . 307
Number of children having cavities in other permanent teeth . . . 116
Number of children having no defects . . . 225

NIGHT SHIRTS

Appear on Streets as Frosh Obey Sophs

Casual observers yesterday afternoon in the city might well have believed that the town is infested with an army of somnambulists. But Jacksonville is merely being treated to its annual "circus," staged by the Illinois College freshman class in honor of tradition and for the entertainment of the sophomores.

Frosh duties, for both boys and girls, were posted a couple of days ago and have been one of the chief campus center ever since. Yesterday the frosh began to carry some of these tasks out, under the close supervision of the upperclassmen, of course.

But in the meantime merchants in the city were momentarily confused by a sudden demand for the antiquated, night-shirt, before they realized that the garment was an essential part of the wardrobe of each male member of the freshman class this year. Before noon the town's entire stock of normal sized gowns was exhausted and the frantic frosh accepted any size, shape, or color as the 12 o'clock deadline for proper attire approached.

Frosh duties are rather evenly divided among the boys and girls, with the boys perhaps holding a slight lead. Besides the lads who will give the shaving demonstration Saturday morning there are others who have even more tedious or embarrassing assignments.

Freshman Duties
Four of the girls must cut three square feet of grass with nail scissors and then rake this space carefully with a comb; four others have to scrub the rather lengthy sidewalk from Jones Chapel to Tanner Library with a toothbrush, and others, in collaboration with a pair of boys, have to wash off the senior bench and nearby rock situated in the center of the campus. Another group of girls are scheduled to brush off the front steps of Tanner with a brush composed of ten bristles.

Bushes around the same building have to be trimmed by still another group, the job to be done with nail scissors; other girls are to water a couple of trees with thimblefuls of water; still more are to collect a full quart of pencil shavings; other duties include making and selling mud-pies on the campus and, believe it or not, brushing out all of the carvings around the base of old Sturtevant.

One group of boys must operate what is referred to as a taxi service for upperclassmen, that is, taking them down town in an old wheelcart which has long been a vital part of the college equipment.

GILLHAM FUNERAL HOME
JACKSONVILLE, ILL.

Dear friends:
Because our preparation room is especially planned, it is usually preferred that the embalming be done here.
It is perfectly possible, however, for the embalmer to do his work in the home, and this is a matter for the family to decide.
Embalming is required as a public-health measure. Modern methods also make life-like restoration possible, which is our chief aim, always.
Respectfully,

Lincoln Downs Jacksonville High; Rout Wins 47 To 0

Lincoln Ends Crimson Record At Home With 12 To 0 Win Yesterday

Games yesterday: Lincoln 12, Jacksonville 0.
Games today: 2:00, Illinois College vs. Parsons.
2:00, School for Deaf at Feitshans, (Springfield).

The Lincoln Railspitters swung their axes heavily on the Jacksonville high squad and smashed a long-time Crimson football record by taking a game here yesterday 12 to 0. It was the first defeat the Crimson 11 has sustained in the last four years of home field play.

In most departments the teams were well-balanced, both lines holding well against plunge attempts, both teams smearing end runs fairly consistently and punting deeply. But a couple of Railspitters got together on a series of passes that brought touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters for the only scores of the battle.

Even then the Crimson set something of a mark by holding Lincoln to under 20 points which is something no other prep team has been able to accomplish this season. Lincoln is leading the Big Twelve conference at the present time.

Lincoln Passes
The passing combination which did things for Lincoln was from the full back, Correll, to the right half, Tumilty. The Crimson made several slabs in the passing department but a couple of these attempts were intercepted and though a few got into the right hands, they were with one exception only for short gains.

Most of the game revolved itself into a punting duel between the Crimson star booter, Basil Sorrells, and the equally expert Lincoln kicker, Correll. Neither offensive could penetrate the other's line due mainly to excellent team work, the only thing throwing the balance off was the Lincoln pass combination.

Despite the lack of scoring the game was fast all the way and created plenty of excitement for a large crowd of fans.

The big Jacksonville moment came in the second period when Sorrells hurled a long pass to Captain Clyde Vasconcellos, resulting in a net gain of 32 yards. The drive died on the next play, however, when Danosky of Lincoln intercepted another pass attempt, this time by Sorrells.

Correll Scores
After an exchange of passes in the early part of the fourth quarter Malerich of Lincoln ran back one of Sorrells' punts to the Jacksonville 35 and from there Correll ran the leather around left end for the remaining 35 yards to the goal line. The second quarter Lincoln marker came from the Correll-to-Tumilty passing team. Despite the loss the playing was a credit to both teams and the game was one of the best displays of football on the J.H.S. field this year.

The Jacksonville aerial attack which proved devastating to a couple of opponents this year was successfully broken up, outside the one long gain. Both teams got 15 yards in penalties and seven first downs apiece.

Tigers Seek Second Central Conference Football Win Today

Journey To Springfield For Game With Feitshans Football Crew

The School for the Deaf football eleven has about as bright prospects for the present season as any in the city, with one Central Conference victory tucked firmly under their belts and a big desire for another today. They are on the road today for a gridiron meet with the Feitshans Flyers in Springfield, game time to be at 2 o'clock.

Coach "Spike" Wilson will be with-out two of his first stringers, but reports the remainder of the squad is in fine condition and well tuned for the fray today. The two I. S. D. lads out for the present are Durland, regular tackle, and Hlage, guard.

Percy Burris, about the most gratifying player I. S. D. fans have had in a long time in both football and basketball, has been going full steam since he was released from the hospital several weeks ago. The Tiger open field runner had a badly infected leg for a couple weeks in the early moments of the season but has the member well cured and functioning as well as ever.

Wilson expects to start the following lineup in the game—Ends, Conner and Lumbrick; tackles, Brantach and Jackson; guards, Cavallo and Klajda; and center, Bullner; backfield, half, Devito and Burris; quarter, Belzer, and full, Troeger.

Three Jacksonville Residents Are Hurt In Auto Accident

Motorists Are Injured When Car Overturns On Highway

Mike Keropian, an Illinois College student, Doris Dewesse and Agnes Blesse of this city were hurt last night about 11:15 o'clock when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on the pavement on the Jacksonville-Virginia hard road, six miles north of this city.

Mrs. Dewesse sustained head injuries, the full extent of which have not been determined. One of her ankles also was hurt. Keropian was less seriously injured, having several abrasions on his head. Miss Blesse suffered minor injuries.

The three were taken to Our Saviour's hospital by Leland Bourn, who was traveling the road to Jacksonville. They were attended by Dr. Albion Wolfe.

Keropian told authorities he was driving north when the outline of a car loomed up ahead, and he turned to the right and the car was overturned. He said the car was parked on the east side of the pavement. Officers went to the scene last night to investigate.

Winchester H.S. Defeats White Hall

White Hall, Oct. 20.—With both teams putting on a last minute drive, Winchester high defeated White Hall, here this afternoon in an Illinois Valley Conference football game by the score of seven to six.

Neither team scored until the last six minutes of play, when Winchester by straight football worked the ball down the field and across the paying stripe for a touchdown. The Scott county boys annexed the extra point with a line buck.

Winchester then kicked off to White Hall and the Greene county boys opened up their bag of passing tricks. Three straight passes put the ball deep into Winchester territory and four line plays shoved the ball over for a touchdown. Burl Allen's attempt to dropkick for the extra point went wide.

Blocked Punt Gives Jerseyville Breaks

Carrollton, Oct. 20.—A blocked punt enabled Jerseyville to score a touchdown in the last two minutes of play this afternoon, the visitors defeating Carrollton 6 to 0 in a hard-fought contest.

After the squads fought almost on even terms through most of the four quarters, Jerseyville blocked a punt and gained possession of the ball on the 15 yard stripe. An end run which netted 7 yards, followed by a couple of cracks at the line, produced the touchdown.

Officials were Boyle of Thayer, referee; Sloan, Pittsfield, umpire; Oliver, Eldred, head linesman.

Rockets End Game On First Play Of Fourth Quarter Under Rules

When Morris McHatten caught a pass from Tobin on the first play of the fourth quarter and then pulled himself away from a couple Strong-hurst tacklers to cross the goal line, Routt high's Rockets brought to a close their home season and kept their record unblemished with a 47 to 0 victory. The game was called because the rules of six-man football provide that as soon as one team is 45 or more points ahead, that team is declared the winner.

The Rockets ripped into Strong-hurst for 21 points the first quarter, 13 more the second period, used second and third stringers in the third canto and scored seven points, and then wound up the game with a touchdown on the first play of the final quarter.

The Rockets were more ready to use the sidelines for travel last night than they have been in previous games. Bill Henry pitching touchdowns twice to Jack McGinnis, who had his big night, and Tobin pitching another. Strong-hurst failed to threaten the Routt goal throughout, although they appeared to be dangerous at all times. Walker, a mite sized youngster, came close to getting away twice on a play that involved handling the ball four times rapidly in the backfield, with the little fellow scooting out without interference at the end of the shuffling.

McGinnis took a pass from Henry for 25 yards to score the first touchdown, Henry plunging for the conversion, and a little bit later Henry cut loose for 21 yards and a touchdown on what looked like a straight drive into the line, but which developed into a close end run. Henry also plunged for the point. McGinnis scored the third touchdown of the opening quarter when he went around his right end, and then cut back to outfoot his field to the goal about 20 yards away. He also plunged for the point.

Routt struck from out in the field for their fourth touchdown. Henry pitching a 40-yard pass to McGinnis, who ran 20 yards to score. Jack Longergan intercepted a Stronghurst pass to score the last touchdown of the first half, running 15 yards. He also plunged for the point after touchdown.
Routt reserves took over late in the second quarter, and came back almost immediately after the second half kick-off to finish the game. Winters, chucked up the first touchdown of the second half when he went through left end for 40 yards, Don Longergan plunging for the point.

A crowd of about 700 persons witnessed the game, played on the Lake Mauvalsterre ball diamond. The game was the central feature of the annual Routt homecoming.

Haley Gauges Weds Mildred Northrop At Bowling Green

Alsey Young Man and Glasgow Woman United; Other Glasgow News

Alsey—In a quiet wedding ceremony, performed in Bowling Green, Mo., Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 18th, Miss Mildred Northrop, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Northrop, near Glasgow, was united in marriage to Haley Gauges, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gauges, near Alsey. The single ring ceremony was used.

The couple was attended by their mothers, Mrs. Northrop and Mrs. Gauges, who accompanied them to Missouri for the ceremony.

Future plans of the newlyweds have not been revealed, but are at present staying in the home of the groom's parents.
Erect Government Corn Bin
Ten large, galvanized steel corn bins, of the circular type, are being erected this week just east of Alsey, and will be used for the storing of shelled corn which has been government sealed. Each of these bins have a capacity of 2,040 bushels.

This corn entering the bins is being shelled at the owner's crib and hauled to these bins, where it is rescaled. A long conveyer takes the corn from the truck to the top of the bin, where it enters the bin through a hole in the center of the roof. Two of these bins had been completed Thursday. They will furnish storage room for farmers in this part of the county.

Apple Picking Over

The apple picking season has come to a close in this area with all the orchards near here and Patterson winding up their work during the past week. Several thousand bushels of apples have been handled in the several orchards in this territory during the regular season. A portion of this year's crop was sold by the bushel to local buyers and users, while probably the bulk of the crop was delivered to the markets, either by truck or rail.

During the past week, Lake Louella, located south of Glasgow, has been restocked with approximately 10,000 game fish, including bass, crappie, blue gill, sun perch and goggle-eye. Here's a charming version of the popular up-and-down coiffure, with not too much emphasis on the "down." The hair is brushed up at front and sides, softly waved and curled. Back ends are dressed on the neckline—not on the shoulders.

MISS ETHELETTE TUCKER, socially prominent daughter of Mrs. Witherbee Black, wears one of the smartest one-piece casual day dresses of the season. Of wool jersey, with bodice in light gray and attached skirt in darker, warmer, gray, it is figure-hugging at the waistline, has moderately squared shoulders and a full, flared skirt.

STAMP NEWS

ELIMINATION of the 2-cent, 6-cent and 12-cent values from the promised Philippine "Triumphal Arch" series has been announced. The stamps depicted President Roosevelt signing the American congressional act of Philippine independence. President Roosevelt is reported to have objected to the issue, because of the American custom of not placing portraits of living persons on stamps.

The issue will be restricted to three values showing the arch and three showing the Malacanang Palace. The series will be released Nov. 15.

Portugal has recognized the continuation of the New York World's Fair in 1940 with a series of overprints, to be placed on one stamp of each of eight colonies. The overprint shows the Trylon and Perisphere and an inscription which translates: "International Exposition of New York, 1939-1940." The stamp is one of an airmail series issued in 1938 by each colony. The overprint is intended for trans-Atlantic mail.

Japan continues the "modernized" series with the 10-yen plum tree stamp, showing the plum tree, plum blossoms and printed in plum color.

Approximately 70,000 first-flight covers have been received at San Francisco for dispatch on the inaugural U. S. to New Zealand flight. An additional 30,000 covers have been sent to Honolulu. The Postoffice Department had set Sept. 30 as the deadline for first-flight covers, but since no date has been set for the beginning of service, covers will be accepted until the day preceding the first scheduled trip.

Parade And Game Mark Homecoming Festivities Here

I. C. Dance And Crowning Of Homecoming Queen Will Be Tonight

The homecoming parade at 10:30 this morning, the football battle between Parsons College and Illinois College at 2:00 this afternoon, the homecoming dance and coronation of queen will mark the climax of the '39 Illinois College homecoming events.

The huge bonfire lit the skies in the west part of town last night, and the routing yells and songs echoed through the city streets as the college student body aired its enthusiasm stored up all month for the gridiron battle this afternoon.

Around the blazing pile of boxes and wood the student body gathered to join in the traditional yells and songs of the school. Previously in the evening all of the literary societies of the campus held special alumni meetings.

After the bonfire demonstration the students got together the make-dance and shouted their way down College avenue to the business district. Student groups were out several nights ago getting the town in proper shape for the events, whitewashing "beat Parsons" slogans all over the city streets, and stringing crepe paper school colors from the lamp posts, marking the line of march for the parade this morning.

Homecoming will end with the annual dance to be held this year in the David Prince gymnasium starting at 9 o'clock. The homecoming queen, Esther Marsh, will be the center of coronation ceremonies to occur on the dance floor about 10:30.

At the close of the football game this afternoon the freshmen at the school will resume their conventional dress and will be accepted as qualified members of the I. C. student body. Finishing touches on the freshmen duties program will occur when a group of frosh give a public shaving demonstration on the public square this morning and when a lone frosh keeps the football warm before the game and during the half.
